

Login to the system

A diagram of a login form layout. It consists of a large light gray container box. Inside this container, there are four elements stacked vertically and centered: an orange rectangle labeled "Logo image", followed by two gray rectangles each labeled "Text", and finally a blue rectangle labeled "Button".

Menu

A diagram of a menu bar layout. It features a horizontal row of four buttons. The first three buttons are gray with the text "Button" and have a thin blue border. The fourth button is blue with the text "Button" and has rounded corners. The entire row is contained within a larger light gray box with a green border.

Registration and user information

Information text

Information text

Text

Text

Text

Text

Text

Text

Button

Teacher registration and information

The diagram illustrates a web page layout. At the top is a light gray header bar containing the text "Information text". Below the header is a large blue rectangular area, also labeled "Information text". To the right of this blue area is a vertical green bar. Below the blue area is a large white rectangular area. Inside this white area, there are six blue rectangular boxes arranged in two columns of three. Each of these boxes contains the text "Text". At the bottom center of the white area is a light blue rounded rectangular button labeled "Button".

Registration and student information

Information text

Information text

Text

Text

Text

Text

Text

Text

Button